

KNUDSEN ESTATE IS VALUED AT ABOUT $17,000

Bequests Will Aid Individuals Seeking The Ministry

OTHER WILLS FILED

Etta G. Cummings, Morris-
ville, Leaves Estate
To Daughter

DOYLESTOWN, Oct. 27 — Annie Knudsen, Middletown twp., who left a personal estate of $9,000 and real estate, valued at $8500, bequeathed $500 to the Elders' Fund of the Newtown Presbyterian Church to aid a young person studying for the ministry.

In her will, written May 20, the testatrix stipulated that the bequest be used to aid any worthy individual seeking to enter the ministry.
Individual beneficiaries include a sister, Ellen Hansen, Somerton, 40 shares of Newtown Title & Trust
Co., and $1,000 in U. S. Defense
Bonds; a niece, Marian A. Knudsen,
$1,000; a niece, Grace McCracken,
Laurel Springs, N. J.; a nephew, James Taylor, Laurel Springs, and a niece, Alma Hosking, Philadelphia, each $1,000.

Ellen Bennett, Somerton, was given a dwelling house. Real estate consisted of properties on Newtown pike and State street, and William Bennett and Andrew Hansen, Philadelphia, were named executors.

A nephew, William Bennett, and a brother-in-law, Andrew Hansen, were bequeathed the residue.
The $15,000 personal estate of Etta G. Cummings, Morrisville, will be inherited by a daughter, Margaret J. Carlsen, 105 West Ferry road, Morrisville, with exceptions of $1,000 bequests to each grandchild. The will was made July 15.

ATOMIC WARNINGS

No one seems capable of speaking calmly about atomic energy. The President intimates all mankind will be destroyed unless there is international control of it.
A group of American atomic scientists, headed by Dr. Harold C. Urey, says that Russia will probably catch up with the United States in atomic weapons within two years; that this country's program is lagging because of excessive secrecy and security regulations; that the Atomic Energy Commission has hardly a first-class atomic scientist left on its payroll because scientists dislike working under repressive conditions.

Another atomic scientist disagrees, saying this country has a lead now and can maintain it. Gen. L. R. Groves, former head of the Manhattan Project, joins in the dissent. These conflicting statements can hardly be reassuring to a public already disturbed by the inconclusive congressional investigation just ended.

Whether it is true or not that Russia will soon catch up with the U. S. in atomic weapons, it will be wise to proceed on that assumption. Nothing is more dangerous than underrating an enemy—as Britain and France underrated Germany, as Hitler underrated Russia, as Roosevelt underrated Japan, and as the high echelon in Washington has underrated the Soviets ever since 1933.

SPLENDID GESTURE

Toy manufacturers announce that this coming Christmas their wares will reflect a studied attempt to de-accent the military theme. There will be a few pistols for cowboy outfits. But instead of tanks, artillery, warplanes and such the mechanical gadgets will be along the line of constructive, peaceful pursuits. If there are any atomic energy toys, they will not reflect the bomb which menaces civilization.

All this is very much to the good. Theorists have long been pounding on the point that in a civilization which allegedly worships the Prince of Peace, it is an incongruous note to keep shoveling at the small fry the weapons of war.

It might be possible to follow the lead of the toy manufacturers and make revisions in other activities that suggest war to the young mind. In this connection it should be pointed out that toy manufacturers were actuated less by altruistic motives than by the fact that popularity of war toys has declined.

But what of the adults of the world? They're the ones who organize the gangs, practice the hoodlums and devise the policies that lead to murderous international conflict. It might be possible to shape the mind of the child ideologically if it weren't for examples of violent-minded adults.

American toy manufacturers promise to do their part valiantly. How to persuade adult makers of really lethal weapons in Russia to fall into line is the $64 question.

NEWS OF INTEREST TO PA. FARMERS

By Ed Hauck

(I. N. S. Farm Editor)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 27.—(INS)—

Pennsylvania's all important dairy and poultry farmers may pay higher prices for corn within the next few years.

The huge corn crop harvested this year in addition to the large surplus, was a third above the established level, according to economists of the Northeast Farm Foundation.

With these circumstances prevailing, economists believe, U. S. Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan can reduce corn acreage next year. With this fall's crop of three and a half billion bushels above 20 per cent of normal, he can call for a vote on marketing quotas for the 1950 crop, they estimate.

Since corn is from $5 to 90 per cent feed crop, less production could mean higher prices in the future. Pennsylvania farmers desire cheap corn much as steel companies want cheap ore and coal.

Corn support rates in this state will top the national average by 16 cents, reports Charles S. Bronstein, of the Pennsylvania Production and Marketing Committee.

The Pennsylvania price was pegged at $1.56 a bushel for No. 2 yellow corn, he added.

As of the first of the month the surplus aggregated 800 million bushels. To insure that as much of the crop as possible come under the price support, many farmers constructed storage bins for the overflow harvest.

Farm land values in Pennsylvania dropped slightly in the past several months, according to a Federal-State survey.

State Secretary of Agriculture Miles Horst said:

"The decline is highly significant because it reflects the downward trend in farm income that has been reported in Pennsylvania so far this year compared to last."

Based on 1912-14 Pennsylvania farm values set at 100 the latest index is six points off the March peak of 165. Farm values at the last survey, however, were 83 per cent above the 1935-39 pre-war levels, Horst pointed out.

Voluntary farm sales in Pennsylvania have been declining in number for more than a year, the Secretary explained. Prospective buyers have refused to meet the asking prices and Horst predicted the volume of sales would slide further during 1949-1950.

Prices received by State farmers for first-line farm products crested last October. They slipped gradually each month until June with a slight advance in August.

Horst believes that under these conditions a continuing decline in both price and turnover in farms in Pennsylvania will be felt.

For the nation as a whole, land values have more than doubled since lean pre-war years.

RECIPES

Epicurean Casserole

1 8 oz. package macaroni
1/2 cup chopped meat (cooked tongue, ham or spiced pork)

2 tablespoons butter or margarine

4 slices bacon

12 stuffed olives

1/2 cup milk

1 10 1/2 oz. can tomato soup

1 cup fine, dry bread crumbs

1/2 cup grated American Cheddar or Parmesan-style cheese

Sliced mushrooms

Break the macaroni into 2" pieces.

Then cook according to directions on package.

Now take the chopped meat and brown in butter or margarine along with a couple of sliced mushrooms, if you have them on hand. Fry bacon until crisp, then crumble, and slice up olives. Then stir milk into the tomato soup. Add the meat, bacon and olives.

Stir this sauce into the hot, drained macaroni and pour the whole

JACOB C. SCHMIDT, SR., REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE TO SUCCEED HIMSELF AS BURGESS, HAS BEEN ACTIVE IN BOROUGH AFFAIRS MANY YEARS

had never been dreamed of, the outer portions of this center, w suburban settlements, are still largely farms.

In 1895, when Mr. Schmidt decided to start his own florist business, he bought a strip of farm land in the country, along Jefferson avenue between Beaver Dam road and the canal. It adjoined what was an a wire-insulating plant, later became the "leather works."

Within a few years he built up a busy business, specializing in pansies. On his birthday in 1897, February 22, he married Amy Cowthers, of Frankford, now deceased.

Around the turn of the century, when in Philadelphia perfected an invention which had no connection with pansies, but which changed the Burgess' life. They effected the process of putting a tiny, tough, waterproof coating on a skin—"patent-leather."

Ben Baker, a Boston leather dealer, realized that the new product had all the makings of a fashion article. He came to Bristol seeking a site for a mill. With him came a young employee whom he planned to put in charge—Clifford L. Anderson, who was to live here the rest of his life and to be Burgess for nearly a quarter of a century.

The first place they called in Bristol was the home of the florist who lived next door to the factory. They were interested in. Thus it happened that the first man the future Burgess Anderson met in Bristol was the man who was to succeed him many years later in office—the future Burgess Schmidt. A life-long friendship resulted.

Burgess Schmidt's interest in civic betterment and in charitable activities has resulted in his being closely associated with a long list of groups concerned in these matters.

In the last year of the war he was chairman of the War Fund Drive. He is a member of the following:

Bristol Lodge No. 25, Free and Accepted Masons; Bristol Lodge No. 976, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, in which he has been House Committee treasurer for twenty-one years; Bucks Lodge, No. 1169, Loyal Order of Moose; Hopkings Lodge, No. 87, Order of Odd Fellows; Bristol Rotary Club; the Square Club; honorary member of the Exchange Club; Bristol Chamber of Commerce; and of the Philadelphia and Trenton Florist Clubs, and the Society of American Florists. He is president of the Bristol Consolidated Fire Department.

The Burgess, who lives in a house adjoining his greenhouses on Otter street, has five children: two sons, Jacob C. Schmidt, Jr., of 120 Jefferson avenue, and Horace P. Schmidt, who, since his return from Army service, has worked with his father in the florist business; and three daughters, Mrs. Ray Stevens (she and her first husband, Lawrence McCoy, are dead); Mrs. Russell Edwards, and Mrs. Charles Veit. There is one grandson, Lawrence McCoy, who served in the Navy during the war; a granddaughter, Clare Ann, one year old; and a great-grandson, Lawrence McCoy, Jr. One son served in World War I, and a son and grandson in World War II.

Kathryn Schmidt, the Burgess' sister, who accompanied him to America, married into another family of florists, becoming the wife of Gustav Pitzonka. Both are deceased and their son, Walter Pitzonka, carries on the business at a large establishment on Oxford Valley road in Bristol Township, specializing in the same flower in which his uncle the Burgess made his start in Bristol, pansy plants.

Resurfacing of virtually all streets, with many being repaved; considerable enlargement of the water system; acquisition of the former Canal Basin and its improvement into a parking lot back of Mill street; acquisition and improvement of the War Memorial Recreation park grounds; installation of parking meters which have largely solved the mid-town traffic problem; much improved traffic and parking signs; many blocks of new sidewalks; the tying-in of Borough streets with the new By-Pass and Langhorne highways; creation of modern budget-controls over Borough finances, under the new Borough Treasurer; major improvements by the State at Silver Lake and in the upkeep of the Canal; further modernization of the police and fire departments.

With the Borough's population still growing, and with the rapid development of the suburban areas concentrating a larger and larger number of persons in this community, many further improvements will be needed in the coming years, to keep Borough facilities abreast of the demands upon them.

With the broad and close experience Burgess Schmidt has had in the work already done, he is ideally fitted to be the Borough's chief executive in the coming period.

The men and women of Bristol could ill afford to deprive themselves of his experience and his proven ability in the work of making Bristol a better place to live.

Burgess Schmidt's interest in civic betterment and in charitable activities has resulted in his being closely associated with a long list of groups concerned in these matters.

In the last year of the war he was chairman of the War Fund Drive. He is a member of the following:

'Winning a Tot's Cooperation'

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

LET us see how the discerning mother may develop rich resources for winning the child's cooperation. Beginning even before the baby can talk, she cuddles him tenderly as she cares for him, talks to him about what she is doing for him, says rhymes to him, gives him pats, smiles, and tender words of approval for the little ways in which he, later, helps feed or dress himself or cooperates on the nursery chair. She thanks him smilingly when he hands her some small object he finds on the floor. She enjoys his babbles and his later use of words. As soon as he can gesture or speak a question, she answers it kindly. She never makes him feel, at the age of two, five, fourteen, or later, that anything he asks or says seriously—and he practically always is very serious—is unworthy of her consideration and honest response. She, therefore, never makes him have to feel afraid of being ridiculed.

She enjoys the tot's fun at handling blocks and other toys that gradually develops from crude manipulation to simple and then to more complicated forms of creative play. No matter how little his creation from blocks or marbles is like the thing he calls it, she is able to see and appreciate it. When he makes articles or pictures for her, she keeps them and cherishes the gifts as his creation, whether he is four or fifteen, until he is willing to have her dispose of them. She welcomes his imaginary creatures.

Yarns of Fancy
Such a mother or grandmother enjoys the toddler's yarns of fancy. Some of them she writes down as he creates them. When he dramatizes, she responds as he wishes her to respond and plays the parts which he assigns to her. She drinks imaginary tea which he serves her from a real or imaginary cup. She reacts to his imaginary friends and creatures as if they were real. She never forces him to think he has been lying through his imaginary way, when for him he has never before been nearer to the truth.

She knows he will have no trouble by and by from confusing facts and fancies. She knows that if he handles tools and makes real things and plays normally with other children of his age, all these matters will clear up for him. In the meanwhile, see what fun he has had, what companionship with others, and what a mine of materials he has had to talk about and think about. See, moreover, what a storehouse of resources for agreeable companionship she has helped him pile up for her and him to draw upon for months and years to come.

Creative Ways
This parent or grandparent stimulates the tot's imagination not only through appreciation of all his creative ways and products, but also through telling and reading to him, especially from folklore. In doing so, she builds in him a companionable, cooperative relationship, fires his imagination, enriches his speech, gives him more to talk about and think about with other persons, and also cultivates in him good habits of concentration and persistence. He has gained an early lasting love of good books and reading.

reach its destination promptly, it is due to several reasons. Perhaps the letter was addressed carelessly;
the misspelling of names and addresses can unduly detain the letter, or failing to seal the letter properly might detain the letter.
Mr. Charles Doyle spoke of some of his experiences as former Postmaster of Pennell and other Postal officials also gave their version of the postal business. Following the brief talks, a question and answer session ensued.

Emil Forney, "Photographer of

Take a long Look at yourself in a Pittsburgh Plate Glass Door Mirror

YOU CAN MEET THE GAZE of a critical world serenely if you check your appearance in a Pittsburgh Plate Glass Door Mirror before going out. It tells you your ensemble and make-up are right, banishes fears of crooked seams and "showing" slip. You see yourself as others see you—from head to toe.

THE MAN OF THE HOUSE needs a full-length mirror, too. No more crouching and craning to see if everything is satisfactory.
The full-length mirror fits the man—he doesn't have to try to fit the mirror! He'll feel better, he'll look better when his full-length mirror tells him he's perfectly groomed.

LUCKY THE CHILD who has a full-length mirror in her room.
When a "young lady" can view herself from every angle she will be more careful of her appearance . . . more likely to develop good posture and poise. She'll take pride in her room, too, when it has a full-length mirror just like Mother's and Daddy's.

EVERY HOME NEEDS at least one full-length door mirror . . .
one at least 5½ feet high. Most homes need two or three. Whatever the size of your door, one of our four standard size mirrors will fit it perfectly. Any of these sizes available in a simple, unframed venetian style to be installed with clips. Installation material supplied with mirrors.

Potato Yield For Bucks Satisfactory

one farmer in the vicinity of Allentown, where unusually large potatoes were taken from the ground. Potatoes that are too large, it was said, are hard to get off the market. The Lehigh county farmer had an outlet for his large potatoes in a restaurant in New York City, where they were roasted.

In general, said Mr. Rothrock, the potato yield in Bucks county was good this season and if farmers went to the trouble of having official measurements taken, they would be eligible for the 400-bushel club. Only one official tubation was made in the county so far this season, and this was on the Luff property in the vicinity of Richboro. Although the harvest of potatoes in this county has been in progress for some weeks, it is not as yet completed. Mr. Rothrock, who was in Newtown section last week, found some farmers in that area digging their potatoes.

Tullytown to Receive State Money for Road Work

HARRISBURG, Oct. 27.—Auditor General Weldon B. Heyburn announced today that he has approved payments representing the quarterly distribution out of a $20,000,000 appropriation from the motor license fund, as provided for by the 1947 Legislature, to cities, boroughs and first and second class townships.

Use of funds by local governments is limited to street, road and bridge construction, repair and maintenance. Allocations are made on a road mileage basis. The political subdivisions are required to submit semi-annual reports showing the work that has been completed under the provisions of the act, and the cost thereof.

Tullytown borough will receive $145.10.

Librarians From Germany Visit Washington Crossing

WASHINGTON CROSSING, Oct. 26.—A copy of the German painting known by every school child in America as symbolic of Washington's famous crossing of the Delaware came as a complete surprise to two German librarians on Monday.

The painting commemorating this historic crossing was seen in the park office by Miss Eva Hollwig, of Bremen, Germany. When asked if they were familiar with the name of the painter, they replied, "Leutze... Leutze...". It is as common at home as your name "Smith" in this country. We knew the painting, but we did not know it was done by a German. Both were fascinated with the story of the "crossing" and took voluminous notes.

The Misses Hollwig and Spennhoff are librarians employed by the Educational Service Center, which is sponsored by the American Military Government in their respective cities. They are guests in the United States for 60 days of the State Department and visited Washington Crossing State Park during their trip in southeastern Pennsylvania which has been supervised by the Philadelphia board of education.

Their trip through Washington Crossing Park was under the guidance of Acting Chief of Police Joseph J. Jones, after which they were the dinner guests of Mrs. L. J. H. Hutton, of the Washington Crossing Park Commission.

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. Samuel Gaskell
Pastor
Tullytown Methodist Church

Almighty God, we lift our hearts to Thee in confidence, knowing that Thou art, and the rewarder of those who diligently seek Thee.

Thou hast provided a way by which we may come to Thee. Not many ways, but one way. It was the Master Himself who said, "No man cometh to the Father but by Me." Deliver us from the sin of too much broad-mindedness and turning the clear way into a desert, or the river of life into a swamp, neither of which have any meaning, and lead nowhere. May we follow Thee in being definite, and in clarity of meaning, instead of losing ourselves in mists. This we ask in Jesus name. Amen.

mond Robinson, Newport Terrace, and her installing staff, and other members of Lily Rebekah Lodge, journeyed to Sellersville and installed officers of Lady Sellers Lodge. Following the business meeting refreshments were served. A bus was chartered for the trip.

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen
Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little PASTETECH the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). BENSALEM HIGH TO TRY TO INCREASE LEAD OF LEAGUE

Bensalem Township High will attempt to increase its lead in the Lower Bucks County League tomorrow afternoon as it meets Pennsbury High on the latter's field. Game will begin at three o'clock.

The Owls are in first place in the loop with five points, two more than Langhorne and Southampton. Pennsbury has a point by virtue of its tie with Langhorne in the season's opener. Since then it has lost to Southampton and Morrisville.

The Falcons are a much improved club than last season. Southampton barely beat them, 12-7, and Morrisville won by a 19-6 score. Coach Harry Wyckoff's team has a victory to its credit, beating Bordentown. Last season, Pennsbury suffered several bad lacings.

Bensalem has won its last two games, beating both Morrisville and Southampton, both league games. Earlier in the season it played Council Rock to a scoreless deadlock and lost to Mt. Holly and PSD after beating Doylestown in the opener.

Both lineups will be strong for the contest. Bensalem has its stars in "Eddie" Oliver, Warren Brady, Walt Smith, Al Gelges and Reid, while Pennsbury's "Bill" Hibbs and Cutchinal will have to be watched closely.

Council Rocks will also be in action tomorrow afternoon, meeting the Bordentown Manual Training School's Junior Varsity eleven. Last season, Coach "Sage" Sagolla's team registered a 19-0 win over the Jersey school. Council Rock is still nursing its wounds over the 38-7 whipping given them last week by Langhorne.

In a game under the lights tomorrow night, the Morrisville team travels to Abington High. Morrisville replaced Bristol on the Abington schedule. The Bulldogs' record to date is two victories and two defeats with a tie sandwiched between.

Coach Glenn Davies' lads have won over Pennsbury and Hamilton, lost to Muhlenberg Township and Bensalem and played a deadlock with Trenton Catholic.

Abington's record for the season is four wins and one loss. The Suburban "A" team has won over Central, Havertown, Lower Merion, and Upper Darby, while its defeat was at the hands of Coatesville.

Two games are also scheduled for Saturday. In the afternoon, Lower Moreland plays at Southampton, while at night Bristol clashes with Langhorne in a Lower Bucks League game at Langhorne.

EDGELY

A community Halloween party is scheduled to be held in Edgely Fire Co. station starting at 6:30 tomorrow evening. There will be dancing and refreshments, and prizes for young and old. The affair is sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary. A small financial donation will provide admission.

CROYDON

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

EAGLES WEAKEN; BORDENTOWN WINS EASILY

PENNDel, Oct. 27—The Langhorne-Newportville Eagles weakened in the second and final periods to enable the Bordentown Manual Training team to chalk up a 20-0 triumph last night under the lights on the Pennel War Memorial field.

The Eagles played to their opponents scoreless in the first quarter with most of the playing being done within the thirty-yard stripes.

However, Bordentown broke the scoring ice in the second quarter when Royal went over from the 5-yard line after a sustained march of 46 yards. Walker added the extra point on the placement. Later in the period, Walker caught a 10-yard pass from Don Young to score a TD. The extra point try was blocked to make the half-time score, 13-0.

The count remained thus until the last quarter when Walker again snatched a short pass from Young on the five-yard line to score. Royal place-kicked the extra point.

The Eagles got within the Bordentown twenty-yard line twice only to lose the ball on a fumble the first occasion and being held for downs on the second try.

The Eagles coaching staff of "Bill" and Joe Rigney and "Eddie" Morasch was pleased with the showing of their group and announced after the game that they appreciated the support given them by the fans.

Between halves the Pennel String Band entertained with selections.

The management of the Eagles is attempting to book a game for Sunday afternoon on the Pennel field.

Langhorne-Newportville (0) Ends: Smith, Fizzano, W. Smock, Heath, J. Waldron, Harlan.

Tackles: T. Waldron, Wood, Kelly, Vandergrift. Guards: Logan, W. Rigney, Connolly, Thompson. Centers: Richardson, Buccell, Conklin, Backs: Watson, Stevenson, Mongillo, Kervick, Pursell, Muth, Bonema, H. Rhodes, D. Smock, Everitt, J. Hall.

Bordentown (20) Ends: Turner, Hunter. Tackles: Lasiter, Gray. Guards: Devin, Richardson. Center: Robinson. Backs: Royal, Walker, Brown, Young.

Score by quarters: Langhorne-Newportville 0 0 0 0—0 Bordentown 0 13 0 7—20 Bordentown scoring: Touchdowns—Royal, Walker 2; points after touchdowns—Walker, Royal (placements). Officials: Referee, Morgan; umpire, Diamanti; head linesman, McCoy.

Auto Club Denounces Halloween Vandalism

Halloween vandalism, particularly as it applies to costly motor cars, is denounced by Keystone Automobile Club in a statement urging parents, school teachers and police to impress on youngsters this week that such acts as perpetrated in other years are criminal instead of "funny."

"Considering the high cost of ownership and maintenance of the modern automobile," said John Armstrong, Manager of the Doylestown Division of the Club, "it is imperative that children be warned against defacement and breakage. In the mistaken belief they are having 'fun' there are many things the youngsters can do in the Halloween season that properly can be O. K'd by their elders. It is the duty, first, of parents, to see they do not overstep the bounds of legitimate 'fun.' It is the duty of police to see that private property is not made a target for unthinking demonstrators, and to take punitive action where such practices result in damage.

"Unfortunately, in recent years, motorists have been subjected to destructive acts of children that are totally inexcusable. Painting and marking cars with chalk and soap is a most obnoxious practice. The finish on many expensive cars has been virtually ruined on 'mischievous' nights in past years.

"Breaking of milk bottles is another practice that should be discouraged, and the perpetrators punished. The motoring public is penalized thousands of dollars for damage due to this cause. When 'fun' reaches this expensive stage, it is no longer 'fun' but plain vandalism.

"Broken door handles, stolen radiator caps and gas tank caps are other items of needless expense. We appeal to parents and teachers to lend their aid," the Club official concluded. "in the prevention of these acts perpetrated by Halloween funseekers. We also suggest that in the Halloween season empty milk bottles be kept off doorsteps and porches. Thousands of dollars damage is done annually to motor vehicle tires by broken glass strewn in the street by celebrators. The loss to milk companies in proper destroyed is also considerable."

SHERONAS TO DIRECT RED CROSS DRIVE

Prominent Young Industrialist To Aid In Campaign

AN ABLE DIRECTOR

Victor F. Sheronas, prominent young industrialist, former attaché of the U. S. Embassy in Moscow, and a veteran of the last war, will direct the 1950 Red Cross Fund campaign for the Southeastern Pennsylvania Chapter.

The announcement of Sheronas' appointment as chairman for the drive was made today by William H. DuBarry, chapter chairman.

"Mr. Sheronas' acceptance of this important post is most fortunate for the community and the Red Cross," DuBarry said.

"His ability as a leader, his personal knowledge of Red Cross in action at home and abroad, and his enthusiastic interest in the welfare of the community assures the Red Cross of another successful campaign in March," DuBarry added.

Sheronas, president of Sellers Injector Corporation, 1600 Hamilton St., was among the first appointees to the American Embassy in Moscow when the U.S.S.R. was recognized by the United States in 1934.

He entered the war in 1942 and was assigned to the office of the Undersecretary of War. Later he was transferred to the office of Gen. George C. Marshall, Chief of Staff, War Department. General Marshall recently was appointed by President Truman to succeed Basil O'Connor as president of the American National Red Cross.

"It is a pleasure to be associated again with Gen. Marshall in a great cause," Sheronas said, "and I am happy to have been asked to accept the responsibility of raising the funds that will make possible the continued operation of Red Cross services so vital to the welfare of our community."

"The Red Cross is on call twenty-four hours a day, but it appeals to the public only once a year for the financial aid it must have. After all, the Red Cross was founded by the people, for the people and, therefore, should be fully supported by the people," he added.

His duties with the War Department took him to the far corners of the Earth. He worked closely with military experts of America's allies in developing long-range plans.

While on special assignment in the Mediterranean and Middle East theatres of operation, which included Italy, Jerusalem, Tel Aviv, North Africa and Persia, he said he was "tremendously impressed" by the work being done by the Red Cross for members of the U. S. Armed Forces, displaced persons and war victims.

He was cited by both the War Department and American industry for his activities in connection with the long-range war planning program.

Sheronas is not new to the Red Cross. He was the first president of the Junior Red Cross in New Haven, Conn., while attending high school there.

He left the military service in 1945 as a Colonel.

Active on the boards and committees of many business and civic organizations, Sheronas is the chairman of the Philadelphia Council of the Greater Philadelphia-South Jersey Conference, which he organized for the economic development of the 9-county area known as the Greater Philadelphia Industrial District.

He is president of the Industrial Management Corporation; a director of the Autocar Company, Ardmore; vice president and director of the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce and a member of its executive committee; a member of the National Defense Committee of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, and active on various committees of the National Association of Manufacturers.

Sheronas, who at 40 is one of the youngest men to head a Red Cross Fund campaign, was on the Varsity Crew of the University of Pennsylvania and manager of the Ice Hockey team. He was president of the Inter-Fraternity Council at the university.

He graduated from the Wharton School of Finance in 1931 and is permanent secretary of his graduating class. He is a trustee of the Westminster Choir College of Princeton and active in the Ardmore Boy Scout Troop No. 1. A resident of Ardmore, Sheronas spends the little time he has away from his business and civic activities sailing his boat or flying, with his wife and their six children.

The annual Red Cross Fund campaign is held during the month of March.

PEARSON TO PLAY IN BIG FOOTBALL GAME SATURDAY

(Special to Courier)

LEWISBURG, Oct. 27—William H. Pearson, Bristol, former star football player at Bristol high school, is playing guard on the undefeated Bucknell University freshman football team. He is the son of Bristol Councilman William H. Pearson and Mrs. Pearson, of 1225 Pond street, Bristol.

Pearson will probably see plenty of action on Saturday when the Baby Bisons entertain the Gettysburg College freshmen in Memorial Stadium, Lewisburg, in an afternoon contest. Thus far, the Bucknell freshmen have recorded wins over the Lock Haven State T-chrs., J. V., 33-26, and the F. & M. freshmen, 12-12. Pearson has featured in both victories.

SPORT NOTES

This is America—The Bristol Junior High School backfield is composed of: Sidney Taylor (colored youth), Larry Cohen, Gene Dugan, and Bart DiGralomo.

Taylor has been playing this season with a broken thumb. If Taylor can rip open the opposing teams' lines with a broken thumb, he would like to see him when he is in the best of condition for he certainly can pound that line.

It is a pleasure to see Cohen run back punts. The fleet-footed Junior High back has the makings of one of the fastest backs in this section by the time he reaches senior high.

The trophies of the Bristol Suburban Softball League and Bristol Youth Baseball League are on display at the Diamond Sporting Goods Store, Mill street. They will be awarded shortly.

In a recent game on the Township field between Burlington Fresh and Township, a Burlington player was verbally chastised by his coach for not taking out the opposing players. He was sent back into the game and displayed the nicest block of the game. But the youngster forgot to look who he was spilling, for it happened to be none other than the referee, "Henny" Morgan.

Assistant Athletic Director Jerry Bloom, of the Bristol High School, is having difficulty with his basketball schedule. Bloom is anxious to get new schools on the schedule and has sent out letters to Lower Merion, Cheltenham, Allentown, Allentown Catholic, Reading Catholic, Norristown, Haverford, Swarthmore, Pottstown, Ridley Township and Lansdale.

Any of these schools with the those already on the schedule—those of Lower Bucks competition and Upper Darby, Palmyra, George School, and Trenton Catholic—will make it interesting for the fans.

A large eastern university is interested in "Bill" Moll, star back of the Bristol High School. If Moll's scholastic average is close to the eighty mark, he will most likely be given an athletic scholarship.

Which college or university couldn't use a three-letter man like Moll who can carry the leather, kick, block, pass, and run-back punts with the best of them, run the 220-yard dash and 100-yard dash, in track, and in baseball, field nicely and swat the ball hard?

William "Bud" Pearson, who was a guard on the Bristol team last season, has a new assignment on the Bucknell University team. He has been shifted to backing up the line on the defense.
